The pandemic challenged and affected all fundamental rights in Europe and around the globe. European values such as democracy, human rights and rule of law were affected to such an extent that the European Union and the Council of Europe organised the common initiative - Wash your hands and defend human rights: EU and Council of Europe actions in the time of COVID-19. Two leaders from CEC member churches, Bishop Bosse-Huber from Germany and Metropolitan Emmanuel from France, will each present their analysis on the current	Webinar 2  09.55 - 11:30 Prayer (Orthodox Tradition) Challenges for the CEC churches in the time of COVID-19 in the area of Freedom of Religion or Belief and other fundamental rights – case studies (Session I) In democratic countries in Europe, democracy, human rights and rule of law are business as usual. In times of normality, the right to freedom of religion or belief is taken for granted by the majority of people in Europe. During the pandemic, European governments reacted in various ways by limiting the right to freedom of religion or belief. Some traditions like the Orthodox one, the practice of the 'shared spoon' (a centuries-old practice for the receiving of communion) raised questions on whether communion is source of health or source of disease. In some Protestant traditions, adapting to the new ways of worship has also proven to be a difficult exercise. How CEC member churches reacted to limits set on religious freedom and how the states of various European countries attempted to derogate from human rights standards will be presented in the 3 webinars.	Webinar 5/GTM  09.55 - 11:30 Prayer (Protestant Tradition) Training on reporting Hate Crime using OSCE mechanisms The Organisation for Security and Co-operation in Europe (OSCE) and Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (ODIHR) has developed a training on the reporting of hate crime via OSCE mechanisms. Tatjana Peric, the OSCE/ODHIR Adviser on Combating Racism and Xenophobia (including intolerance against Christians and other religions), will train SSHR 2020 participants on reporting hate crime towards Christians and other religions. How has the current COVID–19 pandemic affected other religious groups like Jews and Muslims and their places of worship? In her agenda for Europe Commission President Ursula von der Leyen underlined that „there can be no compromise when it comes to defending our core values. “She announced to support an additional comprehensive European Rule of Law Mechanism, with an EU-wide scope. Hence, the European Commission has declared to enhance its monitoring of the rule of law in EU member States through a rule of law review cycle. The cornerstone of the initiative is an objective annual report assessing the rule of law situation in all EU member States in order to reflect the idea of a real community of values. The report is to be issued by the European Commission for the first time in September 2020 building on a proposal first advanced by the German and Belgian foreign ministers in 2019. Promoting the rule of law, democracy and fundamental rights is an aim which is among the key priorities of the German Council Presidency starting on July 1. What are the expectations with regard to this new rule of law initiative? What could be keys to turn it into a success? Which roles can churches play in this regard? Moderator: Senior Church Counsel Katrin Hatzinger, Head of the EKD Office Brussels, Brussels Welcome: Prelate Dr. Martin Dutzmann, Plenipotentiary of the Council of EKD, Berlin Panel: Dr Beate Rudolf, Director of the German Institute for Human Rights, Berlin N.N.
